EXPERIENCE A DIVERSITY OF CULTURE AND ADVENTURE

Home to Colorado State University, Fort Collins is nationally known as the “Napa Valley” hotspot for craft beer... celebrating big names like New Belgium Brewing Co. along with up-and-coming companies and local microbreweries.

The city offers access to an array of outdoor activities in Rocky Mountain National Park and the surrounding area. You'll also find a variety of skiing and snowboarding options just two to three hours outside of Fort Collins. Echo Mountain, Loveland Ski Area, Seven Utes Mountain, Eldora Mountain and Arapahoe Basin are favorite snow sport sites surrounding the Fort Collins area.

Fort Collins is a vibrant town full of local eateries, pubs, boutiques, and is home to Colorado State University. In addition to excellent restaurants, museums and shops, the downtown area contains over 20 restored historical buildings that are in recognized, national and local historic districts.
